Landsee

1. On 19 October 1953, it was observed that the following 2 types of radar installation were still in position on the site at Landsee.
 - a. "Dumbo" Array
 - b. S.C.R. 602
2. The "Dumbo" array and the S.C.R. 602 were also observed at the same location on 25 October.

Wiesmath

3. A detailed search of the Wiesmath - Sperkerriegel area on 19 October 1953 failed to reveal the existence of any type of radar in that area. A further search of the whole area on 25 October also showed that no radar installations are in this area.

Wiener Neustadt

4. There is a small camp situated on the south-west edge of Wiener Neustadt in the fork of the roads leading to Bad Fischau and Weikersdorf. On 19 October a mobile S.C.R. 602 radar array was seen parked beside 9 light A/A guns. The radar array was collapsed on the top of the van.

Parndorf

5. The "knife-rest" and "Fish-net" radar arrays were seen at their normal locations on the Parndorf airfield on 25 October at 10.00 hours. At the time of observation there were 18 MIG 15 aircraft on the airfield. A further 4 MIG 15's were circling the airfield. The radar arrays were not rotating.

Deutsch Wagram

6. The "Knife-rest" and "Fish-net" radar sets have been moved from their old location east of the railway station at Deutsch Wagram. On 20 October they were observed at a new site to the west of Parbasdorf and 400 meters to the north of the road leading from Deutsch Wagram to Parbasdorf. A cable runs from the site to a house in Parbasdorf. On 20 October "Rus 2" type radar set was seen on the site previously occupied by the "Knife-rest" sets.

Trausdorf

7. On 27 October, the "Knife-rest" and "Fish-net" sets were observed in their normal location at Trausdorf airfield.

Witzendorf

8. The radar site at Witzendorf (approximately 1 km from St. Poelten along the road from St. Poelten to Witzendorf) was observed on 26 October. To the north of the road a "Pegmatit" set was observed. To the south of the road a "Dumbo" set was observed.

Area South of St. Poelten

9. A detailed search of the area to the south of St. Poelten on 26 October failed to reveal the existence of any radar installations in that area.

St. Margarethen

10. On 18 October a "Token" radar was observed approximately 2 km east of St. Margarethen at Trig Point 226, approximately 100 meters south of the Rosalienkapelle. A "Fish-net" array was also standing near the "Token" array. At the time of observation a double line telephone cable was being laid from the site towards Rust.
11. The "Token" set was observed rotating on 27 October for approximately $\frac{1}{2}$ hour. The array made 10 complete turns per minute.

Unter Eggendorf

12. On 20 October, the "Knife-rest" and "Fish-net" sets were seen in their normal location approximately 1 km north east of the Tritol plant.
